Jefferson is part of the larger West Park neighborhood, a former suburb annexed by Cleveland in 1922 that today is one of Cleveland's most diverse communities. Jefferson was home to West Park founder and namesake John M. West whose house still stands today at 3684 W 138th St. Located east of Kamm's, from the Red Line tracks to W 117th, Jefferson offers a variety of involvement opportunities and exciting events to neighbors and visitors alike, including a weekly outdoor summer concert series held at Jefferson Park each July ("Jefferson Rocks! West Park"). Visit www.jefferson-puritas.org/events for more information on upcoming events in the neighborhood!
